Debian Day Feedback

In order to improve our own sub-conference, we'd like to hear your opinion about the talks held during Debian Day at LinuxTag 2005. This feedback formular guaranties anonymity.

Talk

Thursday, June 23rd 2005

- ☐ Backporting Practice (Norbert Tretkowski)
- ☐ Debian Security (Joey Schulze)
- ☐ Internationalisation (Luk Claes)
- ☐ Debian Archive (Goswin Brederlow)
- ☐ The volatile Archive (Martin Zobel-Helas)
- ☐ Debian Women Project (Meike Reichle)
- ☐ CDD: Current and Future (Andreas Tille)
- ☐ Bootable multi-arch CDs (Jörg Jaspert)

Friday, June 24th 2005

- ☐ m32r Architecture (Yutaka Niibe)
- ☐ Kerberos V5 mit Debian (Mike Wiesner)
- ☐ Debian OCaml (Stefano Zacchiroli)
- ☐ Knowledge, Power, Beer (Andreas Tille)
- ☐ m23 System (Hauke Goos-Habermann)
- ☐ Ubuntu Development (Michael Banck)

Relevance / Content

How important was this talk? very important ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ dispensable

Speaker

How competent was the speaker on this topic? very competent ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ incompetent

Presentation

Please rate the means of presentation. very good ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ bad
(i.e. slides, speaker skills, articulation, understandability)

Conflict

Has there been a conflict with another important occasion during the show? I.e. should we have moved this talk to a different slot? If so, which is the conflicting occasion?

Comment

If you would like to add general comments on this talk, on the Debian sub-conference or on the Debian presence, please go ahead. Or send mail to the public list debian–events–eu@lists.debian.org.